

Phoneline 10X creates your home network with no new wiring

10 Mbps Phoneline 10X USB Adapter

PA101

NETGEAR's PA101 Phoneline 10X USB Adapter allows you to transform the existing phone lines in your home into a high-powered computer network. Setup is simple and doesn't require any new home wiring. Within minutes you can share your cable/DSL service with all your PCs, play multi-player games, and access the Internet on all your computers at the same time. This continuous data exchange takes place without any disruption to your phone service.

EASYGOING

Uses the USB port so you don't have to open your PC to install it. No external power supply is needed. And it works with your notebook computer, as well.

WELL-MANNERED

Never interferes with your existing telephone service, ISDN, cable, or DSL service.

TRUSTWORTHY

Provides safeguarding of your online activities so you can be confident that your privacy is secure.

UNOBTRUSIVE

Compact size keeps your computer area uncluttered.

FRIENDLY TO YOUR POCKET

Connects computers in different areas of your home with no expensive new wiring.
