

High-speed USB cables for peripheral devices

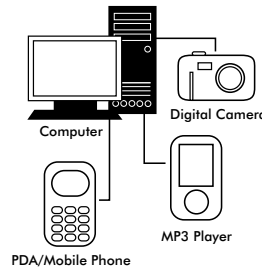

- Quickly transfer data between USB 2.0 devices at speeds up to 480 Mbps - 40 times faster than USB 1.1 speed!
- Fully compatible with USB 2.0 and 1.x specifications

Standard USB A-B cable connects your PC's type-A USB plug to type-B USB plugs on peripheral devices.

USB extension cable extends the distance between your PC or Mac and your USB peripherals.

Type A to mini-B cable connects your portable media devices such as portable USB disk, digital camera, MP3 player, PDA or mobile phone to your computer.

Features

- 24k gold-plated, corrosion-resistant connectors ensure superior signal transfer and maximum performance
- Internal shielding protects against unwanted EMI/RFI noise interference
- Molded integral strain relief enhances durability to protect against damage
- Stranded high-purity copper wires provide installation flexibility
- Impedance matched, twisted-pair wires reduce signal degradation and cross-talk for high-speed, error-free data transmission
